

A Rectorial Address: Delivered to the Students in the University of Aberdeen, 6th June, 1912 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Andrew Carnegie

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Rectorial Address: Delivered to the Students in the University of Aberdeen, 6th June, 1912 Ladies and Gentlemen: Rectorial addresses are generally of a character which appeals more to the mature and educated men and women of the world than to university students still under instruction, but I propose to speak today to those who are soon to leav their alma mater and plunge, sink or swim, into the tempestuous sea of life. Many of those I see befor me are buoyant with hope, as they should be, that they may in their day and generation do the State some servis, or at least lead honorable lives, and be in greater or less degree useful to their fellows or remembered as leaving behind them memories of the best of a good man s life, those little nameless, unrememberd acts of kindness and of love. The start in life is of vital importance - a good beginning half the battle - and, keeping in mind that No gain is made where no plesure s ta en,...

READ ONLINE
[3.28 MB]

Reviews

A top quality publication as well as the typeface used was intriguing to learn. Yes, it is play, still an amazing and interesting literature. I discovered this publication from my i and dad suggested this book to learn.

-- Prof. Louvenia Flatley

The book is great and fantastic. it had been writtern extremely perfectly and valuable. I am very happy to let you know that here is the finest pdf i have read through within my own life and can be he very best book for actually.

-- Miss Rossie Fay